

AUTHENTICATION OF A PERSON BY HAND RECOGNITION

ABSTRACT

A person is authenticated by hand recognition carried out based on scanning data obtained for a first position and for a transition into a second position. Scanning data obtained in the second position may be used also.